Jan 2023 — Present	Researcher, socius labs Founded socius labs , an independent research lab supported by the London School of Economics (LSE) and LSE Generate, bridging human sciences and artificial intelligence through two parallel research streams: applying insights from human sciences to enhance AI systems, and leveraging AI as a platform to run human theories at scale.	London
Nov 2021 — Oct 2022	Junior NLP engineer, Numen Capital Contributed to Knowsis research team extracting trading signals from non-traditional data sources (social media) through NLP and machine learning. Built transformer-based ESG (Environment, Social, Governance) tweet classifier achieving 97% accuracy, implemented rule-based sentiment analyser with custom financial dictionaries, and integrated these NLP-derived features into deep learning models for market movement forecasting. Developed end-to-end pipeline from raw text to actionable trading signals.	London
